Chris May (AT)

While combining Blues, Folk, Country and Rock, Chris May always forges his musical bridge between Fingerstyle combined with his voice and often accompanied from Blues Harp, Didgeridoo and Stompbox. His songs include musical ballads about life, nature, love and sociocritical topics of our humanity. The songs remind of the organic side of nature, originating from the pulsating circulatory of life. January 2016 Chris May released his debut album "way beyond" on which he collaborated with different guest musicians. With different open tunings, Chris creates spherical sounds and earthy atmospheres, by using several fingerpicking, slide styles and a range of various, exotic guitars. Instruments like the Weissenborn Lapsteel guitar, the Dobro or the Banjo. July 2019 Chris May released his 2nd studio album "Blue Rain". The album is a high quality mix of rock and blues influences with folk and country roots. Chris recorded the album with cajon player Michael Broeckl, bass player Manu Schöneegger and percussionist Mosaad Osman. Since 2 years Chris has formed a duo together with the egyptian percussionist Mosaad Osman, which gives his unique style even more diversity and you can feel the groove of authentic and handmade blues & folk music. Enjoy an evening full of fine and extraordinary music. Chris is giving also guitar and didgeridoo lessons for beginners and intermediates of all ages.
