Escuela Grind

New England's extreme metal powerhouse, Escuela Grind, continues to shatter the boundaries of grindcore, death metal, and hardcore. Since their formation in 2016, the quartet has evolved from an underground secret into a leading force in the modern heavy music scene, known for their "unbelievably hostile" sound and an unexpectedly positive, empowering message. Led by the charismatic and high-energy vocalist Katerina Economou, Escuela Grind delivers a sonic assault that is as intellectually deep as it is physically punishing. Their music—a "metallic hardcore monster"—blends the lightning-fast blasts of grindcore with the crushing weight of modern death metal and the raw energy of power violence.

Vor die Hunde

Vor die Hunde are four businessmen from the future, armed with the knowledge of how to turn noise into revenue. They have returned to the present to launch their hyper-lucrative fusion of grindcore, death metal, and punk against us. Their business model is simple and straightforward: blastbeats in, money out. With unprecedented brutality, they extract listeners' hard-earned cash — all while delivering maximum customer satisfaction. Vor die Hunde proudly embrace their role as the world's first profit-driven Grindcore band. Fueled by pseudo-intellectual world-improvement lyrics and a Sound scientifically engineered by leading experts to trigger consumer desire, they target a solvent audience eager to invest in exclusive, limited-edition merchandise at luxury price points. The scientific foundation of their success: advanced AI models trained on the Output of world market leaders like Rotten Sound, Nasum, Napalm Death, Carcass, and others — ensuring exponential audience growth with minimal effort. On March 13, 2026, Vor die Hunde will expand their successful product portfolio with the launch of a brand-new full-length album. This premium-Segment release is designed to dominate the global grindcore market and further solidify their position as industry leaders in extreme music monetization. Vor die Hunde - Turning Blastbeats into Business since 2017.

Tired.

Worn down by the relentless pressures of modern society and the intricate challenges of navigating human values, we channeled our frustrations into the creation of our hardcore project, „Tired.“. Drawing inspiration from a myriad of influences, both musical and personal, our sound is a raw, unfiltered reflection of the struggles and resilience that define our lives. We are all tired at some point.
